

HELP SUPPORT INDIANA'S WATER FUTURE

The Indiana Water Summit is supported by many partners and individuals who believe in the value of an apolitical and inclusive annual forum designed to examine the complex interests and issues that face our water supply. The Summit's content seeks to remain consistent with and build upon current policy actions in order to provide a broad planning perspective, weaving together diverse topics that together demonstrate the interdependency of water issues and the science behind the state of the waters. The Water Summit provides all water users, managers, and professionals - across all sectors - a chance to network and learn from one another.
